

VIJAY RAMACHANDRAN

With over eighteen years of journalistic experience, Vijay Ramachandran has worked with a variety of publications - from a mainstream, multi-edition daily to a niche biotech business publication. Currently, Vijay is the Editor-in-Chief of IDG Media, where he helps to keep the publications, websites and events of the group ticking with compelling content. He enjoys working with individuals and helping them fit into teams that deliver rich content. Vijay has incubated and run five publications, BioSpectrum being one of them. He has been the Editor of CRN India, Executive Editor of Developer IQ and Deputy Editor of ITspace.com. Vijay is a graduate in English Literature from Delhi University.

Vijay won The PoleStar Award titled, 'Internet IT Journalism', for 2000 for his article published in ITspace.com.